The Investment of an Architect
A User's Guide to Architectural Services

No matter what type of structure you are planning to build, you are embarking on a journey that will take you through a maze of design options, building codes, zoning laws and contractors.

You may be building a private residence, office complex, religious center or laboratory. Your construction plans may include an industrial plant or public facility such as a school or hospital. Or you may be interested in a restoration project.

To achieve the best possible building design for your budget and time frame, it is advisable to hire an architect.

The Architect Designs for Quality

The architect is naturally a generalist. In an age of specialization, the architect must consistently see the "big picture" while at the same time have a grasp on the smallest detail. An architect considers all building requirements—technological, artistic, functional and humanistic. Through the "process of design," the architect generates a total environment which makes dynamic use of space and satisfies functional needs.

Through formal training and experience, architects are equipped to solve problems. With their broad knowledge of design and construction, architects can show you alternatives and options you might never think of on your own.

What an Architect Contributes to the Design

Think of an architect's services as a wise investment, not an added cost to your building project. The following examples of architectural services explain why.

- A well-conceived project can be built more efficiently and economically. Architects plan the project with you. Working as a team, you and your architect can create a plan that will work best for your personal situation and requirements. As your ideas evolve, changes can be made to the plan much less expensively than later on when the building construction is underway. Detailed plans also help contractors accurately price and build your project.
- Energy-efficient buildings can save you money on fuel bills. An architect can design a building that maximizes heating form the sun and lets in natural light, thus reducing heating, cooling and fuel bills.
- Architects can work with your budget and help you select materials and contractors at fair prices. Using the drawings and specifications an architect provides, you can accurately receive construction bids which are based solely on your requirements. Furthermore, an architect can assemble and supervise the contracting team for you.
- Architects can help you choose cost effective materials and finishes. By selecting materials that are both durable and attractive, you will save money you could have spent on frequent maintenance and replacement costs. For example, architects keep abreast of advances in the roofing, masonry, flooring and painting industries, and they are familiar with the wide range of materials available.
- A building with a good design pays off. A well-designed house has much higher resale value. A well-designed store attracts more customers, and a well-designed workplace appeals to good employees and increases productivity.
- The architect can help you reduce the stress you may face during the building process. Building is a long procedure that can be disorderly and disruptive. Architects work to reduce the disruption and look for ways to make the process run more smoothly.
- If your project requires the services of an engineer or other design services, such as a landscape architect, the architect can coordinate this team of experts for you. Architects can sort through complex building codes and find qualified allied design professionals for you, based on your project requirements. As part of your contractual agreement, architects can visit the construction site to verify the project is being built according to specifications.

The Selection Process

Architectural firms come in a variety of sizes and types. Architectural firms, typically, are small businesses. Some larger firms may include in-house engineering, landscape architecture, planning, urban design and interior design services. As a result, each architectural firm brings a different combination of skills, expertise, interests and values to a project.

When selecting an architect you will inevitably face many new situations that will provoke numerous questions. The following are some of the more common inquiries.

- When should I bring an architect into the picture? The earlier the better. Architects can help you to define your project. They can do site analyses and secure planning and zoning approvals.
- How do I find potentially suitable firms to contact? It is helpful to contact other owners who have built similar facilities to what you are planning to build. Ask them whom they interviewed and hired. Look at buildings you admire and appreciate, then find out who the designers were.
- Should I look at more than one firm? The option is yours. It makes sense to stay with an architect you have worked with in the past, and it is helpful to look at architects that have been recommended to you. If you don't already have a relationship with an architect you know and trust, it is best to interview between three to five firms. This will help you recognize the range of possibilities without being confused by a bombardment of options.
- What information should I request from firms I may potentially hire? Ask prospective firms to show you examples of their work that have similar features to your project. Look for similarities in size and type, and review projects that have addressed similar issues such as function. Ask them to indicate how they will approach your project and who will work on it. Get a list of references you can contact.
- What should be covered in the interview? In the interview, state what you want and need. The firm will present its services and experience. If the firm hasn't had the opportunity to discuss the project with you, don't expect a detailed suggestion right then. During the interview, be frank. Tell the architect what you know and expect; however, be sure to ask for an explanation of anything you don't understand.
- On what should I base my decision? Rely on your instincts; personal confidence in the architect is first priority. Look for a balance between technical competence, professional service and design ability. After you determine which firm is most qualified, negotiate a fair and equitable fee. If an agreement can't be reached, negotiate a fee with the next most qualified firm.
- What do I do when I have selected an architect? Put in writing your terms of agreement regarding the scope of work, services, schedule, construction budget and architect's compensation. AIA Colorado sells a variety of standard contract forms which are used industry-wide. For a list of the contract documents available, call 303.446.2266 or 800.628.5598.

As construction activity continues to increase, the architect naturally maintains a unique set of skills that enables him or her to solve problems and assist clients in realizing their objectives. Architects can transform undefined concepts into a design, through plans and specifications, and offer many intangibles including technical knowledge and aesthetic judgment.

An architect can guide your way through your construction journey and direct you toward solutions you may have never considered. Through your partnership with your architect, you will receive a building project that meets your needs, expresses your individuality and provides enjoyment for everyone who uses it.

Chapter Information

The Colorado Chapter of The American Institute of Architects

AIA Colorado represents architects and others statewide and unifies the four local Chapters of The American Institute of Architects within Colorado. AIA Colorado seeks to:

- unite the architects of the State of Colorado in fellowship;
- promote the aesthetic, scientific, and business practice of architecture;
- advance architectural standards of continuing education, training and practice; as well as
- build relationships between clients, the construction industry and architects.

AIA Colorado believes that an important purpose of architecture is to create a vision which improves the built environment. This vision is vital to the advancement of the living standards of our communities and provides a service of ever-increasing value to society.

AIA Colorado provides architect referrals, lobbies the Colorado legislature, offers architectural employment information and sells AIA contracts and publications. We hold an annual conference, usually between October and December. AIA Colorado provides support for the three unstaffed chapters. We are a professional organization for the design profession and are classified as "not-for-profit."

History of AIA Colorado

The Colorado Association of Architects was organized in 1890 and the elected officers were: Robert S. Roeschlaub, President; Harold W. Baerresen, Vice President; Eugene R. Rice, Secretary; and Frank E. Edbrooke, Treasurer. The same men were re-elected to office at the Second Annual Meeting held December 21, 1891. The main topic of discussion at that event was submitting an application for a charter as a chapter of The American Institute of Architects. The charter was received April 4, 1892 and included the states of Colorado, Wyoming and the territory of New Mexico. It wasn't until 1947 that each state had its own chapter.

Programs and Services

The following outlines a portion of the committees and services available to members of AIA Colorado. The AIA Colorado Board of Directors invites and encourages your active participation in AIA at the local, state and national levels. Your involvement means fellowship with your peers, furtherance of your career and a continuation of your education. Volunteer your expertise — join a committee, sponsor an intern, submit an article to the newsletter, run for the Board, suggest a new service, and attend the Annual Design Conference. Your participation and input are necessary for the continued success of this membership body.

AIA Colorado Board of Directors

President: Steven Walsh, AIA

The Board of Directors is the governing body of AIA Colorado and develops all immediate and long term positions and policies for the state. If there is a subject of concern for you or if you have a proposal for the Board, please call AIA Colorado by the 10th of the month. A time will be scheduled for you during the Board meeting to offer your input. AIA Colorado board meetings are held on the 3rd Friday of each month at 2:00 p.m. at the AIA office. All members are welcome to attend.

AIA Colorado Committees

Design Awards Program

Chair: Scott Lancashire, AIA

The Awards Program seeks to honor works of distinction by our Members and to bring to public attention the outstanding architectural services provided by the members of AIA Colorado. Design Award winners are announced during the Design Conference.

Design Conference

Chair: David Barrett, AIA

This committee is responsible for the planning and execution of AIA Colorado's Design Conference. The conference chair is appointed by the President-Elect of the year prior to the year of the conference to be chaired. Committee members develop the theme for each conference, invite speakers and coordinate the two and a half day schedule. Member participation and input is encouraged.

Educational Fund of AIA Colorado

Permanent Trustee: Kenneth R. Fuller, FAIA emeritus

The Educational Fund awards scholarships and grants to architectural students, faculty members, architects and AIA components each spring. Application deadline for these scholarships is, historically, March 1st of each year. Approximately $25,000 is distributed annually by the Fund.

Environment

Co-Chairs: Kelly Karmel, AIA and Scott Rodwin, Assoc. AIA

This year an effort has been made to coordinate programs across the state and keep the members apprised of important environmental issues. A slide presentation is being prepared to take to community groups in Colorado that shows what architects are doing for the built environment.

Finance Committee

Chair: Bill Tracy, AIA (1997 Treasurer)

This Committee is responsible for the financial well-being of AIA Colorado. The committee develops long-range financial goals plus makes recommendations to the Board regarding budgets and other areas of financial planning. Membership dues, the Design Conference, support from exhibitors and document sales generate the majority of the revenue necessary for the operating budget of AIA Colorado.

Gallery Committee

Co-Chairs: Keith Hayes, AIA and Steve Frey, Assoc. AIA

In an effort to increase the public's awareness of the AIA and the architecture profession, significant "storefront" space at our office in Lower Downtown Denver is allocated to the Piazza!*AIA Gallery. Monthly exhibits and receptions are coordinated to coincide with the "First Fridays Gallery Walk" in Lower Downtown. AIA Colorado, AIA Denver and the Piazza!*AIA Gallery are also members of the Lower Downtown Arts District.

Government Affairs

Chair: John Williams, AIA

This committee meets on the second Friday of each month at 2:00 p.m. at the AIA office to discuss matters relating to, among other things, the State Board of Examiners of Architects and legislation at the federal and state levels. During the 120-day Colorado legislative session, the Legislative Affairs Sub-Committee meets at 7:30 a.m. each Friday morning to screen and discuss potential legislation which could impact the profession of architecture. Our contract lobbyist Jerry Johnson assists AIA Colorado in this monitoring process, as well as providing on-site lobbying at the Capitol. AIA plans to sponsor legislation this year, and our first annual Mini-Grassroots will be held February 21, 1997. Our primary goal with this program is to increase the legislator's awareness of architects, architecture and the AIA.

Newsletter Editorial Board ("Colorado Architect")

Chair: Steven Walsh, AIA
Editor: Dawn Givens, SDA
The Colorado Architect is a monthly newsletter published by AIA Colorado to give members an update on actions taken by their Boards, notice of upcoming events, call for entries announcements, reports from committees, and local chapter news. The Colorado Architect encompasses the newsletters of the state and the four local components. Articles and letters are welcome. Submission deadline is the 1st of each month prior to the month of publication. The Editorial Board is comprised of a representative of each local chapter, a public member, a member of the media, the Executive Director of AIA Denver and the Executive Vice President of AIA Colorado.

Nominating Committee

Chair: Ron Abo, AIA (1997 President-Elect)
This committee is composed of at least five (5) AIA Colorado architects, selected on the basis of one representative from each AIA Colorado chapter (appointed each year at the August meeting of the Board of Directors) and chaired by the current President-Elect. The Nominating Committee recommends at least two (2) nominees to run for each officer's position on the AIA Colorado Board of Directors.

AIA Colorado Task Forces

Education Task Force

Chairman: Michael Barber, AIA
The primary charge of this task force was to determine a way for the 4-year School of Environmental Design in Boulder and the Graduate School of Architecture and Planning in Denver to either communicate better or perhaps rejoin the two schools. The schools rejoined as the New College of Architecture and Planning. The Task Force is now monitoring the progress of the newly joined schools.

Fellows Task Force

Chairman: John B Rogers, FAIA
The Fellows Task Force was formed in 1992 and continues to assist the local chapters in nominating their outstanding members to be considered for election to the College of Fellows. The Task Force assists those architects nominated in developing their submissions to the Jury of Fellows.

AIA Colorado Coordinators

Intern Development Program (IDP)

Coordinator: Steve Frey, Assoc. AIA
The Intern Development Program continues to gain momentum in Colorado. The IDP Coordinator and AIA Colorado staff sent out over 200 packets last year. The Coordinator also provides programs at CU Boulder and CU Denver, as well as firms interested in the merits of the IDP program. The Coordinator also nominates firms for the AIA/NCARB IDP Firm of the Year award.

Membership

Coordinator: Roger K. Crosby, AIA
Successful and continuous membership expansion efforts are essential to ensure that the AIA truly represents the profession. Recruit a friend — invite them to a meeting or chapter activity and get them involved in AIA.

Public Relations

Coordinator: Elizabeth Wright Ingraham, FAIA
AIA Colorado's relationship with the media and other organizations, as well as public recognition of the contributions of architects are of paramount importance to the visibility of architects in 1997.

Qualifications-Based Selection (QBS)

Coordinator: Patrick J. Ziuchkovski, AIA
Qualifications-based selection is a negotiated procurement process for selection of design professionals based on qualifications and competence in relation to the work to be performed. AIA Colorado along with the American Consulting Engineers Council of Colorado ("ACEC of Colorado") and Professional Engineers Council ("PEC") are part of a coalition to achieve quality and cost effectiveness in public projects.

AIA Colorado Services

AIA Document and Publication Sales

AIA Colorado is a full-service distributor of AIA contract documents and forms. Each member receives a 20% discount on all AIA copyright-protected contract documents and a member price on many books published by AIA. Our document inventory is kept well-stocked to fill orders. However, advance notice is appreciated for large orders so that we can replace our inventory and have documents available at all times. We stock a limited number of books, such as CADD Layering Guidelines. Order forms faxed or mailed to AIA Colorado, accompanied by a check or VISA/MC number, are usually processed on the day of receipt. Or, you may pick up your document orders at the offices.

Client Referral File

Each AIA member is encouraged to fill out the Client Referral Form that will be mailed to you once your dues are paid in full. This form is used for the Architect Referral Service offered to the general public. AIA Colorado has listed "Architect Referral" as a free service in its ad in the Denver Metro Yellow Pages. Many potential clients call us for assistance in selecting an architect or finding a speaker or hiring an expert witness, and your Client Referral Form is used exclusively for these purposes. Be sure to completely fill out and return your Client Referral Form to AIA Colorado each year.

Job Referral Service ("Job Board")

The Job Board is a service provided to members, the architectural community and architectural job-seekers everywhere. Job openings are advertised for $40 per week per listing ($30 for members) on the Job Board which is updated every Tuesday at 12:00 PM. Available from the AIA office, the Job Board is free to members, with a nominal $1 charge to non-members. Job seekers can also subscribe to the Job Board by sending self-addressed stamped #10 envelopes to AIA Colorado along with a check for $1 per envelope for non-members. Approximately 200 Job Boards are distributed each week.

Resume Book

AIA Colorado maintains a book of resumes for potential employers. There is a $10 charge to job seekers to post your resume in the Resume Book for six months. Hiring firms may visit our offices to review the Book, or call and request a $25 "Resume Package," which will include up to five resumes that closely meet your requirements, along with hiring information and a copy of the 1995 AIA Colorado Salary Survey. To participate in the Resume Book service, call AIA Colorado.

Statewide Firm Profile

The Statewide Firm Profile and Membership Directory is a state-wide listing of all AIA members for the current calendar year. The Profile also includes many resources for the general public and procurers of architectural services.

AIA College of Fellows

The American Institute of Architects bestows the recognition of Fellowship for achievement in architecture on members who have contributed notably to the advancement of the profession of architecture. With the exception of the Gold Medal, fellowship is the highest honor the AIA can bestow on a member. It is conferred on members with at least 10 years of membership who have made significant contributions to the aesthetic, scientific, and practical efficiency of the profession; to the standards of architectural education, training, and practice; to the building industry through leadership of the AIA and other related professional organizations; to the advancement of the living standards of people through their improved environment and to society through significant public service.

Those advanced to fellowship can use "FAIA" after their names in recognition of their contributions in design, education, research or public service.

The following men came into the area from other chapters in the early days and were automatic Fellows when assigned to the Colorado Chapter. (Area - Colorado, Wyoming and the territory of New Mexico, April 4, 1892).

The History of the Educational Fund, Society of Architects, AIA

by Kenneth R. Fuller, FAIA emeritus

Since the first $600 scholarship was presented in 1961, the Educational Fund has awarded more than $500,000 in scholarships, grants and other prizes to over two hundred students, architects and teachers. Each recipient is a better professional today because of this Fund. The 1996 awards program totaled $16,100 from income received through investments, donations, memorials, etc. This figure is more than 10 times the amount set up in the original Trust Fund in 1934.

During the past decade, substantial contributions have been made to the Fund by individual architects as memorials. Some have endowed to immortality certain named scholarships. Significant donations have also been made in the past by individuals and organizations allied with the construction industry, to endow annually other scholarships. Frequently, donors send a check to the Fund in lieu of flowers to memorialize a deceased friend.

The consensus from the Fund's Trustees over the last several years has been that we must broaden our scope of activities to do more to financially assist AIA Colorado and its four chapters so that AIA can conduct progressive Professional Education Programs. Requests for such Grants should be submitted to: The AIA Colorado Educational Fund, 1615 California Street, #508, Denver, CO, 80202. It is also the consensus of opinion that we need to strengthen our efforts to seek new funds in the way of endowments, donations, budgeted items, memorials, etc., from the Chapters and the membership at large.

The Educational Fund was born 62 years ago out of the devotion of five men to the practice of architecture. On January 23, 1934, Robert K. Fuller, FAIA, announced on behalf of himself and four other men, the creation of a special Trust Fund "to advance the interest of the profession of Architecture in the State of Colorado."

This wasn't its true beginning; however, it was the realization of a 10 year dream of Robert Fuller, FAIA, William E. Fisher, FAIA, George H. Williamson, FAIA, William Bowman, AIA and Fred Montjoy, AIA. Their dream had long been "to provide an instrument whereby, someday, sufficient income would be realized to be able to award scholarships, grants, prizes, etc. to the betterment of the profession." (All "quotes" are from the original article.) The first aim of the Trust Fund was quite modest: the assets were to be "held intact and allowed to grow" until the principal would be large enough to ensure a "good annual return therefrom." The founders hoped that the amount in the Fund would serve as a "nucleus" that would increase in value and, now that it was formally established, also attract additional donations. By 1944, however, no new contributions had been received and of the five founding fathers of the fund, only the Fund's Chairman, Robert K. Fuller, survived.

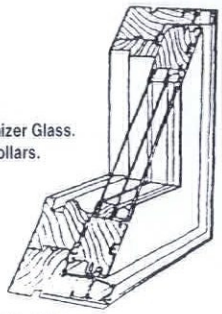

On December 18, 1944, the Trust Fund was transferred to the Colorado Chapter, AIA (predecessor of the Colorado State Society of the AIA and now AIA Colorado) as a Chapter Investment Fund. Robert K. Fuller was designated its Permanent Trustee. By early 1961, the Fund had achieved its first aim "...a good annual return." It was then deemed necessary to incorporate as a separate tax free entity to be known as the Educational Fund, Colorado Chapter, AIA. On February 16, 1961, the Fund was incorporated as a separate tax free, non-profit corporation, under that name. Its broad purpose, as reported in the December 1961 issue of the Colorado Chapter, AIA newsletter, "The Addenda," was (and remains today) "to advance education in Architecture by granting of scholarships, prizes and financial aid to deserving students in Architecture and to teachers or architects interested in research projects directly related and of value to the Architectural profession."

At its November 1961 meeting at the old Boulder Country Club, the Colorado Chapter, AIA awarded James E. Koentop, a fifth-year Architectural engineering student at the University of Colorado, the $600 William E. Fisher Memorial Scholarship. This was the first scholarship awarded by the Educational Fund, Colorado Chapter, AIA. It had taken only 27 years for the five founders' original dream (to be able to make such awards for the betterment of the profession) to come true.

Robert K. Fuller, FAIA, died in 1966, and the Colorado Chapter, AIA asked his son Kenneth R. Fuller, to assume the responsibility of the position of Permanent Member of the Board of Trustees, which he accepted. Further changes occurred in 1969 when following the restructure of the AIA in Colorado into a State Society with two chapters (now four) the Fund's name was legally changed to the Educational Fund, Colorado Society of Architects, AIA...to ensure the Fund's continuity and maintain its statewide orientation. The Board of Trustees of the Educational Fund, Colorado Society of Architects, AIA, by the Articles of Incorporation, consists of the following officers: Educational Fund President — President of Colorado Society of Architects, AIA; Educational Fund Vice President — President Elect of Colorado Society of Architects, AIA; Educational Fund Secretary/Treasurer — Permanent Member, Kenneth R. Fuller, FAIA Emeritus.

AIA Continuing Education Requirements for Membership

What is AIA/CES?

CES is a Continuing Education System developed by the AIA to record professional learning as a mandatory requirement for architect membership. Associate and emeritus members are exempt but are encouraged to participate for their own benefit and that of the profession.

How does it work?

As members you can earn credit (Learning Units, or "LU's") in two ways:

A. Participating in programs offered by chapters, firms, and other registered providers; in this case there's no paperwork at all for you to deal with. This generally does not include committee meetings.

B. Self-directed personal learning activities which are studies of matters relying principally on the architect's initiative as a method of gaining knowledge to improve professional skills. These can include seminars, college courses, conference presentations, video and audio tapes and computer-based education software. A self report form is filled out and used to record your learning units on a transcript.

How are Learning Units(LU's) calculated?

Member earn LU's based on the length of the program of activity and on its educational quality level. The three levels defined by the CES are as follows:

Level 1 (passive) learning is any appropriate activity that has a professional purpose and professional resources, including but certainly not limited to reading, products analysis, and lecture attendance.

Level 2 (interactive) learning includes Level 1 and provides significant opportunities for participants to interact with each other and the learning resources.

Level 3 includes Level 2 and incorporates measurements of feedback concerning the learning progress of participants (generally in the form of testing).

How many Learning Units do I need?

Learning Units are earned on an annual basis. December 31, 1997 is the end of the first cycle of LU's. Thereafter, beginning in 1998, you will be asked to earn 36 LU's each calendar year. One-third of the LU's are to be earned in the area of health, safety and welfare, which is defined as those issues addressed by the Architectural Registration Examination (ARE). You may carry over surplus units for up to two years. You must make up deficient units the year following the deficiency.

Where are the CES records kept?

Transcript service and record keeping is provided by the College of Continuing Education at the University of Oklahoma. Self report forms need to be sent by the member directly to: University of Oklahoma, AIA/CES, Room B4, 1700 Asp Avenue, Norman, OK 73072. A transcript will be mailed each October, free of charge, to all members with CES activities during the calendar year. Additional transcripts are $10 each. Transcripts can be accessed on AIA Online by using your member number. You should keep a record of your LU's for two years.

Is there a list of CES events available for AIA Colorado members?

AIA Colorado and each local chapter have events and programs throughout the year that qualify for Learning Units. AIA Colorado's monthly newsletter, the Colorado Architect, includes announcements of CES events throughout the state.
If you would like more information about AIA/CES please contact AIA Colorado, 303.446.2266 or 800.628.5598.

NCARB – National Council of Architectural Registration Boards

The National Council of Architectural Registration Boards was established in 1920 to assist member boards in carrying out their duties, foster the enactment of uniform architectural laws, develop examinations and establish standards for certification requirements in education and training, to perfect its procedures for verifying the qualifications of applicants and determining their eligibility for certification and establish and maintain reciprocal registration between states having registration laws.

The NCARB is a non-profit corporation with all legally constituted boards of architecture in the United States as members, including the Colorado Board of Examiners of Architects.

To be eligible for NCARB certification, architects must submit satisfactory evidence that they comply with the standard for education, training, examination and character and have been registered by a member board.

The NCARB will, upon request of an individual architect, secure, authenticate and record factual data of the applicant's education, training, practice and character. This record will be forwarded to any state board upon request of the applicant.

Certification shall be given to an applicant holding a council record verifying that the applicant has complied with the council's standards of education, training, practice and character; and that the applicant has passed an examination conforming to the council's standards of content, extent and length of time.

Certification by the NCARB is recommendation to all registration authorities that registration be granted to the holder without further examination. Most board members accept NCARB certification as conclusive evidence of an architect's eligibility of registration. It is, however, not a national registration.

Complete information on compiling a council record and obtaining council certification can be obtained from:

LOF, Libbey-Owens-Ford Co.

Catalog Files SweetSource® BuyLine® 2759

Product Presentation
The LOF Sun Management Glass System® is a synergistic glazing technology for optimizing the thermal performance of insulating glass units in new construction as well as renovation. The system combines an inboard lite of LOF Energy Advantage® Low-E Glass with an outboard lite of one of LOF's solar-control glass products, including EverGreen™ High-Performance Tinted Float Glass, SuperGrey™ High-Performance Tinted Float Glass, ECLIPSE® Reflective Glass, Tinted Float Glass, and Clear Float Glass.

Features
The performance qualities of pyrolytically coated glass allow for easier handling, cutting, bending, insulating, laminating and tempering.

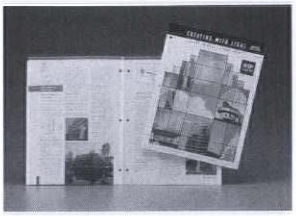

Benefits
Using the LOF Sun Management Glass System on commercial buildings can result in substantial energy savings over the lifetime of a building and is equally effective regardless of where the construction project is located, north or south, east or west.

Performance Capabilities
The result is an I.G. unit that decreases both heating and cooling costs, yet still provides a variety of aesthetic options. Originally conceived to reduce winter heat loss, LOF's Energy Advantage Low-E Glass has long been known for its ability to keep building interiors warmer in cooler climates. Less recognized is its ability to inhibit solar radiant heat transfer into building interiors to keep buildings cooler in summer.

Other Products Offered
Mirropane E.P.® Transparent Mirror, PyroStop® Fire-Rated Safety Transparent Wall Panel.

For Additional Information
To schedule a presentation of the LOF Sun Management Glass System glass sample portfolio, obtain a copy of the LOF Sun Management System brochure, or obtain specific LOF architectural glass product literature, please contact Libbey-Owens-Ford Co. as noted below.

MALLEABLE.

Surprise. There's a side to Corian® that isn't flat and rigid. It's curved. Bendable. Thermoforms easily into twists and turns. So you can make it into a spiral staircase in a lobby, a curved top on a reception desk, or a decidedly dramatic column. Illuminate it, design with it, 51 extraordinary colors give you endless possibilities. A worldwide network of certified fabricators even makes installation easy. It's beautiful, it's flexible, it's durable. It's Corian®.

When your name is Martha, you leave nothing to chance.

An eye for great design. More attention to detail. A passion for quality. Funny how with some names, people just seem to expect more from you. It can be a lot to live up to (even though it's a piece of cake for you). Well, it's the same for us. Our name is Outlook Window Partnership. And we chose it because it reflects the way we do business–a working partnership with your builder. You see, we know that if your builder is happy, you'll be happy. So from the planning stage, through installation and inspection, we're right there, making sure everything's perfect. Just the way you like it. Frankly, in some ways we're even more persnickity than you are, which is why we're partners with some of the best builders around. Ask your builder about us. 'Cause no matter what your name is, if you're the kind of person who leaves nothing to chance, you'll want to leave the windows to us.
